Sovereign Laboratories to Exhibit at A4M Conference in December 2018

Dr. Marvin Singh To Speak on the Benefits of Bovine Colostrum

LAS VEGAS (PRWEB) November 20, 2018 -- Sovereign Laboratories, a worldwide leader in the bovine colostrum supplement industry, will host a booth (#4033) at the A4M 26th Annual World Congress held December 13-15, 2018 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Additionally, Dr. Marvin Singh, Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department of Family Medicine and Public Health at the University of California, San Diego, will moderate a panel and speak to the health benefits of bovine colostrum to the gut microbiome.

The American Academy of Antiaging Medicine conferences and exhibitions are a way for medical professionals to stay up-to-date with the latest scientific research and advances in preventing and treating the degenerative effects of aging. The 26th Annual Conference will bring together thousands of clinicians and medical professionals from around the world. It will also feature renowned keynote speakers who are scheduled to highlight the most innovative and cutting-edge protocols in modern integrative healthcare. Attendees will have the opportunity to connect with experts and thought leaders, discover innovations that impact patient care, network with peers, and demo the latest technologies. Attendees will return from the conference with new insight and ideas for their practice which will undoubtedly benefit patients.

“We are excited to have Dr. Singh make the case for bovine colostrum as a gamechanger for today’s practitioner,” says Doug Wyatt, Founder of Sovereign Laboratories. “Because he knows exactly how well our nutritional products work on the body and mind, Dr. Singh’s expert perspective reinforces our twenty-five years of research and development.” Dr. Singh’s talk, titled “Bovine Colostrum: Its Role in Gut and Immune Health,” will be on Thursday, December 13, 2018 at 2:30pm. It is part of the module “Evaluating and Treating Clinical Chain Reactions” in the Veronese 2401-2 conference room of the Venetian/Palazzo Resort. Following the module, Dr. Singh will be available to answer questions about Sovereign Laboratories’ line of colostrum products at booth #4033.

Dr. Singh has recently partnered with Sovereign Laboratories and is one of only two Integrative Gastroenterologists in the United States to be Board Certified in Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology as well as a Diplomate of the American Board of Integrative Medicine. Currently, Dr. Singh and his colleagues own and operate a private practice, Coastal Gastroenterology, in San Diego where they help patients optimize their digestive health, overall wellbeing, and longevity. After receiving his education Integrative Medicine Fellowship through the Arizona Center for Integrative Medicine, Dr. Singh became a Clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine at UCLA. He has also been an Assistant Professor of Medicine and Associate Director at Johns Hopkins University. As a member of several medical societies, including the American Academy of Anti-Aging Medicine and the American College of Lifestyle Medicine, Dr. Singh approaches his patients from a multi-faceted viewpoint and offers them treatment plans from a global perspective.
