Xulon Press Releases Guide on How to Get into a “Good Place”

With so much depression and anxiety increasing in people today, this book will help readers obtain a hope for the future and live an abundant life.

PHOENIX (PRWEB) November 22, 2018 -- Within the pages of Dawn Krueger-Sherin’s book, Knowing It’s All Good ($14.99, paperback, 9781545642313; $7.99, ebook, 9781545642320), readers will find a book that helps guide people toward getting into a good place, despite their circumstances.

Many Christians find themselves confused, disappointed, and disillusioned with the Christian life and suffer from depression and anxiety. God designed us to heal and have an abundant and prosperous life.

“There is an increase in depression, anxiety, and loss of hope for the future,” says Sherin. “In truth, God is calling His people to an exciting time to live. He wants us healed and in a good place. He wants to heal us so we can step into our Kingdom purpose.”

Dawn Krueger-Sherin grew up as a pastor’s kid and attended private Christian schools all her life. She was in an opera and also on worship teams. She has a Master’s in Oriental Medicine and Acupuncture, and then became a life coach. Her work has been published in newspapers, magazines, and on television.

Xulon Press, a division of Salem Media Group, is the world’s largest Christian self-publisher, with more than 12,000 titles published to date. Knowing It’s All Good is available online through xulonpress.com/bookstore, amazon.com, and barnesandnoble.com.
Contact Information
Dawn Krueger-Sherin
http://www.lifeharmonycoach.com
407-339-4217

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.