Front Porch Media Network Joins the Libsyn Podcast Distribution Platform

All Podcasts Now Available on Spotify!

CLEVELAND (PRWEB) November 28, 2018 -- Front Porch Media Network (Front Porch), a Cleveland, OH-based podcast network, has selected Libsyn as their new podcast hosting platform to power their ever-growing stable of media channels: EvergreenPodcasts.com, TheFrontPorchPeople.com, and PitPassMoto.com

One of the major benefits of this new partnership between Front Porch and Libsyn is the ability to listen to all Front Porch produced podcasts on Spotify, which recently made a big entry into the podcast space. Spotify is an industry innovator and pivotal in shifting the way people listen to content through streaming.

With an already established listener base for music streaming, Spotify has quickly risen to the second largest platform for listening to podcasts — accounting for 8.1% of all downloads in the month of October according to Libsyn. With only 31% of Libsyn’s shows hosted on Spotify, listener share is poised to rise even higher when more podcasts are added to the list.

A presence on Spotify tremendously increases discoverability and puts Front Porch Media Network’s content in a position to grow with the platform.

“Libsyn gives Front Porch the runway to grow its podcast production,” noted Front Porch CEO - Michael C. DeAloia, “and great flexibility in how we engage with our rapidly growing audience.”
