Kweku Andoh Menson’s Newly Released “The Temple” Depicts Heartrending Circumstances Brought About by the Pressure of Societal Norms

“The Temple” from Christian Faith Publishing author Kweku Andoh Menson is an accomplished narrative that delves into themes of politics, laws, faith, and personal beliefs mixed together to form the overbearing backbone of individual and communal morals.

MEADVILLE, Pa. (PRWEB) January 04, 2019 -- “The Temple”: mirrors the influence of Graeco-Roman culture in modern society and modern man. “The Temple” is the creation of published author, Kweku Andoh Menson, a dedicated writer, author, and playwright with a bachelor’s degree in business administration from Manhattan College and a MFA in playwriting from Brooklyn College; an adjunct professor of African culture and literature at Verizon Corporate College, Empire State College (State University of New York); and a member of the Dramatists Guild.

Menson shares,

“WOSILA
Thank you very much.

(She pins the picture on the wall, staring at it.)

I don’t have to go to Rome to see the ruins of the Coliseum, a symbol of the rise and fall of demigods who imposed their will on the weak and the powerless. This picture serves as a memory. Thank you, Abella.”

Published by Christian Faith Publishing, Kweku Andoh Menson’s new book conveys a powerful message of faith and hope amid life’s trying moments.

Based on a true story, “The Temple” follows the lives of Wosila, her husband Joe, and a homeless boy named Lewis, in a tale that reflects how today’s society deals with immigrants and orphans—a reflection on our societal structure since the dawn of enlightenment, philosophy, and religion.

View a synopsis of “The Temple” on YouTube.

Consumers can purchase “The Temple” at traditional brick & mortar bookstores, or online at Amazon.com, Apple iTunes store, or Barnes and Noble.

For additional information or inquiries about “The Temple”, contact the Christian Faith Publishing media department at 866-554-0919.
Contact Information
Christian Faith Publishing Media Department
Christian Faith Publishing
http://www.christianfaithpublishing.com
8665540919

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.