Centurion Brands Wins Golden Shovel Award For Outstanding Gardening Product

Centurion’s Powerful Link-Force® Double-Gear Drive Lopper Recognized for its Unique Style Blade by the Gardening Products Review.

MADISON, Wis. (PRWEB) January 31, 2019 -- Centurion Brands is proud to announce that their Link Force Double-Gear Drive Lopper was awarded the Golden Shovel Award for outstanding garden product from The Gardening Products Review, an independent publication that provides honest, objective and detailed reviews of items using a stringent set of criteria.

Products selected were reviewed by the Gardening Products Review panel of editors and product reviewers who evaluated quality, ease of use, performance, innovation, usefulness, and assembly. They chose Centurion Link Force Double-Gear Drive Lopper for its unique guillotine-style blade, which sets it apart from other loppers in its class, easily cutting through tough wood up to two inches thick.

“Our tools provide lasting value for all levels of gardeners,” says Centurion senior vice president of sales and marketing, Bill Freimuth. “From superior design to top-quality materials, we never stop innovating to ensure consumers get the best tools at the best price. We want everyone to work smarter, not harder.”

Innovative product features include:

- Powerful, Link-Force® Double Gear Drive makes cutting 50 percent easier
- Sharp, fully hardened steel head stays sharp longer
- Non-stick low friction coating helps keep blade from gumming up
- Rust-resistant - strong, steel clad guillotine style cutting jaw
- Lightweight, Aluminum alloy handles
- Cushioned non-slip grips enhance comfort and control
- Cuts up to 2” branches

“Gardening is a wonderful hobby but can be expensive and frustrating if you choose products that don’t last or can’t get the job done,” said Jack Hemingway, product director for the Gardening Products Review. “These awards provide a simple way for consumers to find the best items for their yard and garden.”

The Gardening Products Review is an independent publication that provides honest, objective and detailed reviews of items used in the garden. Based in Tucson, Arizona, the company has reviewers across the country who evaluate gardening products against a stringent set of criteria. Product categories include hand and power tools, pots and containers, watering and irrigation products, gloves and clothing, and other yard care products. With over 650,000 readers annually, the Gardening Products Review informs the buying decisions of gardeners across North America.

Centurion is one of the fastest growing garden companies in the U.S. today with broad distribution in all traditional and non-traditional channels. Using only the highest quality materials and the latest ergonomic research, Centurion product engineers design tools for efficiency, reliability, and ease of use that stand the test of time.
