Ellevate Network Welcomes Brown Rudnick LLP in its Mission to Provide Greater Opportunities for Professional Women

Brown Rudnick announces the launch of a partnership with Ellevate Network, a global professional community focused on advancing women in the workplace and helping companies succeed.

NEW YORK (PRWEB) January 24, 2019 -- Brown Rudnick LLP, a leading law firm, joins the elite organizations working with Ellevate Network to help provide expanded opportunities for women.

Through this partnership, Brown Rudnick’s female employees at all levels of the firm will have the opportunity to form meaningful connections with other ambitious professional women in the Network, participate in Ellevate’s virtual leadership development program, Squads, and build and hone the skills needed to advance their careers.

"Brown Rudnick is excited to partner with Ellevate and join a global network of successful and talented women. The Firm is committed to advancing women in the workplace and building an environment that empowers and supports all our people," said Sunni Beville, the firm’s Equity, Inclusion and Diversity Partner.

“We are very pleased to have Brown Rudnick as a new corporate partner,” said Kristy Wallace, CEO, Ellevate Network. “Their commitment to helping the professional women at their firm develop the skills they need to succeed sets a strong example in their industry. Brown Rudnick is an organization that understands the value of inclusion and the advancement of women in modern day workplaces. We’re happy to be a community of professional women they lean on and learn from.”

About Ellevate Network
Ellevate Network is a community of women at work committed to elevating each other through education, inspiration, and opportunity. We believe that when ambitious women get more opportunity — to have a voice in important conversations, to have a seat at the table where decisions are made, to steer our collective economic power towards that which we care about — it ultimately benefits everyone, and leads to a more equal world. We do this by providing these women with a community to lean on and learn from. Ellevate Network also works with companies committed to gender diversity and has a proven track record of changing business culture from the inside out.
