Tough Turtle Turf 2019 Scholarship Winner Has Been Announced

Tough Turtle Turf 2019 Scholarship Winner has been announced.

SAN DIEGO (PRWEB) January 31, 2019 -- Tough Turtle Turf is delighted to announce the winner of its annual scholarship. An award of $1,500 will be made to Rose Morales a student in the Bachelor of Environmental Science and Engineering from the University of California, Los Angeles, CA,

Our scholarship winner, Rose Morales, discovered her passion for environmental science in her junior year in High School when she realized how much impact she had in the world in the foods she ate, clothing she wore, and the products she used. She learned how to live a sustainable lifestyle by the time she became a Senior in High School.

In her application essay, Rose described how she witnessed the damage of environmental pollution and the consequences behind the lack of people's awareness. "I am completely devoted to the environmental protection field for the goodness of humankind. Environmental protection is for all humans to come together to collaborate, it's not about competing or seeing who is the best at it; therefore we need a total deep understanding of all global issues so we can make smart and strategic decisions for our future planet."

The scholarship will be used for educational purposes only, and will be used towards tuition.
