California Casualty has Dollars for Public School Music and Art Programs

California Casualty is introducing the Music and Arts Grant to aid public school music, art and performance programs. Educators can learn more and submit a request at www.calcasmusicartsgrant.com.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (PRWEB) February 01, 2019 -- California Casualty has introduced a new grant program to benefit school music and arts programs. Educators at public K-12 schools can apply for a $250 Music and Arts Grant at www.calcasmusicartsgrant.com. The entry deadline is June 30, 2019, with grants awarded in September.

The grant is designed to foster creativity in schools such as choir, band, dance, film, theater, computer arts and graphics or any K-12 curriculum that employs art for learning.

California Casualty has partnered with education associations since 1951 and understands the importance of music and arts education for children. Numerous studies have concluded that sharing a love of the arts enhances students’:

- Brain development
- Creativity
- Classroom involvement

Music and art curriculum has also been shown to reduce disciplinary issues and dropout rates.

Unfortunately, arts education at many schools has been reduced or eliminated by budget cuts. California Casualty hopes to fill the need with the Music and Arts Grant. The funds will be used to subsidize music and arts programs or projects in the classroom. Applicants must be a current member, or referred by a current member, of the state NEA affiliate or one of the other participating educator associations including ACSA, CASE, COSA, KASA, NASA or UASSP.

A pilot program in 2018 helped fund:
- Ukuleles for the Kennydale Elementary School (WA) music and dance program
- Uniforms, robes and instruments for the Edison High School (MN) choir and band program
- Sketch books and art supplies for Highland Park Central Elementary School (KS)

“We want to help students soar with music, dance, fine art and other creative outlets,” said California Casualty AVP Brian Goodman.

Apply now for the California Casualty Music and Arts Grant, and the chance to receive $250 for a worthy music, art or performance project, at www.calcasmusicartsgrant.com.
