NextRequest Named GovTech 100 Company Fourth Year in a Row

For the fourth year running NextRequest has been named to the prestigious GovTech 100 list for 2019.

SAN FRANCISCO (PRWEB) February 15, 2019 -- NextRequest, a leading government SaaS solution, has been listed as a GovTech 100 company for 2019. This is the company's fourth consecutive nomination.

NextRequest has received a nomination on the prestigious list every year since it was founded. The GovTech 100 is an annual list compiled and published by Government Technology as a compendium of 100 companies focused on, making a difference in, and selling to state and local government agencies across the United States.

“We’re honored to be listed as a GovTech100 company again.” said Tamara Manik-Perlman, CEO of NextRequest. "As a company whose customers are exclusively governments, and whose product is purpose-built for managing FOIA requests, a building block of democracy, this recognition means a lot to us.”

About NextRequest
NextRequest is the nation’s leading FOIA software empowering governments with modern software to efficiently manage their public records requests. State and local agencies throughout the U.S. rely on NextRequest to save time, increase compliance, and decrease costs associated with record request management.

To learn more about our leading public records software visit: https://www.nextrequest.com
Contact Information
Reed Duecy-Gibbs
NextRequest
http://www.nextrequest.com
+1 2063887484

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.