OnlineMasters.com Names Top Master's in Public Relations Programs for 2019

Career opportunities for graduates include public relations directors, corporate communications managers, and public affairs specialists

SEATTLE (PRWEB) February 15, 2019 -- OnlineMasters.com, a trusted source for unbiased college rankings and higher education planning, announced the release of their Best Online Master's in Public Relations Programs for 2019. The research identifies the top programs in the nation based on curriculum quality, program flexibility, affordability, and graduate outcomes.

In addition to insights gained from industry professionals, OnlineMasters.com leveraged an exclusive data set comprised of interviews and surveys from current students and alumni. Each online degree program was analyzed with only 20 making it to the final list. The methodology incorporates the most recent data from the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) and statistical data from the National Center for Education Statistics. Most importantly, only programs from accredited nonprofit institutions were eligible.

“Advancements in technology and our changing media landscape have created a need for highly-skilled public relations professionals,” says Barbara Montgomery, Program Recognition Manager. “Job candidates with a graduate degree in public relations earn higher salaries and have the flexibility to work for private companies or government organizations.”

Students who pursue a master’s in public relations can also gain employment as public relations directors, corporate communications managers and public affairs specialists. The rapid job growth in this market is just one of the many reasons OnlineMasters.com researched, analyzed, and ranked the Top Master’s in Public Relations programs.
