OnlineMasters.com Names Top Master's in Construction Management Programs for 2019

Graduates often pursue senior roles as building services engineers, construction managers, building surveyors and more

SEATTLE (PRWEB) February 15, 2019 -- OnlineMasters.com, a trusted source for unbiased college rankings and higher education planning, announced the release of their Best Online Master's in Construction Management Programs for 2019. The research identifies the top programs in the nation based on curriculum quality, program flexibility, affordability, and graduate outcomes.

In addition to insights gained from industry professionals, OnlineMasters.com leveraged an exclusive data set comprised of interviews and surveys from current students and alumni. Each online degree program was analyzed with only 27 making it to the final list. The methodology incorporates the most recent data from the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) and statistical data from the National Center for Education Statistics. Most importantly, only programs from accredited nonprofit institutions were eligible.

“Professionals with a master’s in construction management can expect to earn a higher salary as they gain more experience,” says Barbara Montgomery, Program Recognition Manager. “Some degree-holders also become contract workers or small business owners.”

Students who pursue a master’s in construction management can also gain employment as building services engineers, construction managers, building surveyors and more. The steady job growth in this market is just one of the many reasons OnlineMasters.com researched, analyzed, and ranked the Top Master’s in Construction Management programs.
