BOISE, Idaho (PRWEB) April 30, 2019 -- KidCheck, providers of secure children’s check-in software, is speaking at the webinar “Through the Eyes of a Predator” hosted by Group Publishing. The webinar takes place May 7, 2019.

Alex Smith, KidCheck CEO, and Angela Lewton, KidCheck Child Protection Specialist, are joining Craig Cable, Group Publishing Church Safety and Security Director, to discuss trends and behaviors predators are exhibiting to gain access to churches.

Group is a leader in innovative resources created for children’s, youth, and adult ministry, including curriculum, magazines, books, videos, events, training and digital resources.

The webinar will focus on reasons predators target churches, the environments they look for, and strategies to help keep them out. It is designed to provide leaders with best practices and actionable information to help create a secure children’s environment.

“KidCheck is honored to be part of this very important webinar with Group,” said Alex Smith, KidCheck CEO. “Through its plethora of available resources, Group is dedicated to helping ministries grow and thrive, which includes addressing challenging topics such as child safety.”

“We are excited to have KidCheck join us for this webinar,” said Craig Cable, Group Publishing Church Safety and Security Director. “KidCheck is much more than a secure children’s check-in solution, they are experts on child safety, and child security is at the heart of all they do.”
