NJ Top Dentist, Dr. Laurence C. Breiterman Offers The Most Advanced Dental Techniques

Dr. Laurence C. Breiterman of Advanced Dental Techniques continues to pursue new education and attends educational conferences in order to provide the most advanced dentistry to his patients.

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (PRWEB) May 11, 2019 -- At Advanced Dental Techniques, Dr. Laurence C. Breiterman and his staff aim to offer exceptional dental services that will last patients a lifetime. The practice’s philosophy is to constantly embrace continuing education and new technologies so Dr. Breiterman can provide the highest-quality treatments.

“We try to be as advanced as possible, hence our name Advanced Dental Techniques,” says Dr. Breiterman, who has incorporated a variety of beneficial technologies into his practice.

His Wayne-based office recently implemented a cone beam x-ray unit, which creates a three-dimensional view of a patient’s jaw to place implants more accurately. When placing implants and performing surgeries, Dr. Breiterman uses platelet-rich fibrin technology. This promotes healing from both implants and grafting in a fraction of the time, allowing for faster recovery.

“We believe the least expensive dentistry is dentistry accomplished so well that it has to be done only once and can last a lifetime,” says Dr. Breiterman.

In addition, Dr. Breiterman utilizes same-day crown technologies, laser-assisted new attachment procedure (LANAP) and the Chao Pinhole Gum Rejuvenation which assists with recessed tissues. He is also always reviewing new products that he might introduce into his practice to benefit his patients.

“Dentistry is quickly evolving and new technology is being introduced at a faster pace than ever,” says Dr. Breiterman. “It is important to seek out the best lectures from the world’s leaders in dentistry. Each year, we train outside our office for more than two weeks in order to learn from the best and have the opportunity to introduce the finest dentistry to our patients.”
