dicentra Global Certifications and WQS Group Announce Strategic Partnership for BRC Global Standards Certification

dicentra Global Certifications, an ISO 17065 accredited certification body based in Toronto, Ontario, has announced a new partnership with World Quality Services (WQS) Group, a key player in food certification, auditing, and training services.

TORONTO (PRWEB) October 10, 2019 -- dicentra Global Certifications (dicentra GC), an ISO 17065 accredited certification body based in Toronto, Ontario, has announced a new partnership with World Quality Services (WQS) Group, a key player in food certification, auditing, and training services. This strategic partnership will help dicentra GC expand the Brand Reputation Compliance Global Standards (BRC is also known as BRCGS) Certification throughout North America and Europe with a specific focus on the United States, Canada, and Poland.

The BRC Global Standards Certification is an internationally recognized mark of food safety and quality. Food processors, food distributors and food packagers are required to renew their BRC Global Standards Certification annually. Under this new partnership dicentra GC’s global network of qualified auditors will now be able to provide the BRC Global Standards Certification to existing and new clients seeking to harmonize their company’s food safety standards throughout the supply chain. Currently, there are 2593 food processors, distributors and packagers certified to BRC in the United States, 647 in Canada, and 1072 in Poland.

“This is a very exciting partnership for both organizations. We are leveraging dicentra’s strong presence in Canada and the United States, and infrastructure as an ISO accredited certification body. At the same time, we are leveraging WQS’s status as a BRC Global Standards Certification body to penetrate these three large global markets,” said Peter Wojewnik, Vice President of Growth, Marketing & Sales, dicentra. “Together we will build an even stronger network of auditors globally and offer our well-known exceptional customer service to those seeking BRC Global Standards Certification.”

“We look forward to working with dicentra in what will be a mutually beneficial long-term business relationship. Their expertise and strong presence in Canada and the United States is indispensable and we’re confident in the value that we’ll be able to provide to the food industry,” said Valmir Rodrigues, CEO, WQS Group.
