HNTB.com: Redesigned website emphasizes employees and culture

The HNTB “spark” is the theme connecting projects, people, community involvement throughout the newly launched site.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (PRWEB) November 07, 2019 -- HNTB Corporation, a national infrastructure solutions firm, launched a redesigned and updated company website today. In addition to showcasing the firm’s projects, the site features the professionals of HNTB demonstrating technical excellence and commitment to their professions and communities across the country.

The new website is found at www.HNTB.com.

The HNTB “spark,” the orange square in the logo, is the connective theme throughout the website. The orange spark represents the creative energy and the sparks of insight and imagination that HNTB employees exemplify in all they do. It is featured throughout the site to serve as a visual representation of HNTB.

“We wanted to use HNTB’s unique visual identity to communicate what associating with HNTB means. HNTB’s spark helps us stand out using experiences of our own employees,” said Pat Mosher, HNTB communications and planning director and senior vice president.

The site’s Careers section details available job openings, as well as life at HNTB, employee testimonials and the employee stock ownership plan. The Expertise section includes quick links to several market sectors served by the firm. The About section features in-depth information about our spark, corporate responsibility, diversity and inclusion and the people of HNTB. A listing of office locations, newsroom and featured insights also are available via top-line navigation.
