

Lover's Lane Delivery Truck Stolen

Over $250,000 of Merchandise Missing

Canton, MI (PRWEB) May 13, 2010 -- This past Mother's Day weekend, the Lover's Lane delivery truck was stolen out of the corporate facility located in Plymouth Township, MI. Preparing for a delivery to multiple stores, the truck was loaded with over a quarter of a million dollars worth of merchandise. Though the truck was recovered Monday, May 10th, the product is still missing.

The police and Lover's Lane are looking for any information that could shed light on the whereabouts of the missing lingerie, toys and lube. "There has been quite a buzz in this area since the merchandise has gone missing," said Marketing Specialist Eric Gorde. "Hopefully these panty raiders are apprehended."

With 10 stores throughout Michigan, Lover's Lane is one of the country's largest retailers of lingerie, dancewear, and bedroom essentials. Opening their first store in 1992, there are now 30 locations throughout the Midwest.

Lover's Lane is offering a reward for any information leading to an arrest of those involved. Any leads pertaining to this crime can be directed to the Plymouth Township Police Dept. or Lover's Lane corporate office at 734-414-0010.
