

Walling Data Systems Announces Unlimited US-Based Phone Support For Its Grisoft AVG Customers

Walling Data Systems announces immediate availability of unlimited US based toll free technical support, free of charge, for all its Grisoft AVG Customers, large or small.

Claremont, NC (PRWEB) December 21, 2006 -- Walling Data Systems, an Authorized Grisoft AVG Distributor in the United States, has today announced the availability of unlimited US based toll free technical support for all product usage and setup related issues its customers may encounter with Grisoft AVG products.

Will this support come at an additional fee for Walling Data end user customers and resellers? "Absolutely not!" says Luke Walling, President of Walling Data Systems. "Our intention is to provide full US based phone support services to our AVG customers in the US and Canada, included absolutely free of charge with their purchase. It's our thank you for choosing Walling Data Systems and AVG."

Unlimited phone support is available effective December 21st for all customers who possess a current AVG license, large or small, purchased from Walling Data Systems online at www.avg-antivirus.net, or by phone. This includes new and existing customers.

"The support provided after the sale is top-notch," says Jay Tipton, President of Technology Specialists, an Authorized AVG Reseller based in Fort Wayne, Indiana. "I like the fact that we can reach a real, live, English-speaking person at Walling Data Systems who actually knows how the product works and will not B.S. you into thinking that it is your fault when something goes wrong."
