Older Children May Present Significant Risk of Sexual Abuse if Not Monitored

Learn many ways to keep children better protected during TAALK’s 24hr TAALK-A-THON on April 29th, beginning at 8:00am(pdt). TAALK Tip #5: Nearly 40 percent of children who are abused are abused by older and larger children that they know*. If you have multiple children, monitor their interactions closely. Abuse is more likely when there is several years age difference and the older one is in a position of authority over the younger child.

Laguna Niguel, CA (PRWEB) April 21, 2011 -- TAALK Tip #5: Nearly 40 percent of children who are abused are abused by older and larger children that they know*. If you have multiple children, monitor their interactions closely. Abuse is more likely when there is several years age difference and the older one is in a position of authority over the younger child.

Watch the TAALK Tip #5 video here: http://www.taalk.org/TAALK-A-THON

Learn many ways to keep children better protected during TAALK’s 24hr TAALK-A-THON on April 29th, beginning at 8:00am(pdt). TAALK has gathered more than 60 of the worlds top experts and leaders in the child sexual abuse arena. “Child sexual abuse is predictable, preventable, and everyone plays a part in the solution. Experts estimate there are 39 million survivors of child sexual abuse in America alone and we believe it’s time to talk about it.” says founder and host Diane Cranley.

For more information, media should contact the public affairs office by e-mail at pa(at)taalk(dot)org or by phone at +1 (888) 808-6558.

TAALK Global Headquarters
Director of Communications (Public Affairs)
Media Contact: pa(at)taalk(dot)org or +1 (888) 808-6558
Public Contact: http://www.taalk.org/Contact%20Us

TAALK is a US-based, federally approved 501©(3) non-profit organization with a core belief that child sexual abuse is predictable, preventable, and we all play a part in the solution. TAALK is an acronym for Talk About Abuse to Liberate Kids. The TAALK dream is to eliminate child sexual abuse in communities around the world. Until then, TAALK will vigilantly carry out its mission to reduce children’s vulnerability to child sexual abuse and to support survivors through the healing process. TAALK will accomplish this mission through “Best-in-World” awareness, education, support, and collaborative solutions. For more about how TAALK is impacting the world and how you can impact your community, visit http://www.taalk.org.

Justice, National Institute of Justice report.

###
Contact Information
Diane Cranley
TAALK
http://www.taalk.org/TAALK-A-THON
888-808-6558

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.