About Wolfgang's Vault:

Wolfgang's Vault was hailed by the Wall Street Journal as "the most important collection of rock memorabilia and recordings ever assembled in one business." At www.wolfgangsvault.com visitors can find poster art, vintage t-shirts, concert photos, concert tickets and other rock music memorabilia. They can also listen to rare recordings of live concerts featuring Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix, Led Zeppelin, Bruce Springsteen and many others. Wolfgang's Vault was founded in 2003 with the acquisition of the personal archive of legendary promoter Bill Graham.

About "I'm Not There":

"I'm Not There" is an unconventional journey into the life and times of Bob Dylan. Six actors portray Dylan as a series of shifting personae--from the public to the private to the fantastical--weaving together a rich and colorful portrait of this ever-elusive American icon. The film is being theatrically distributed by The Weinstein Company.
