

Sexy NeoUrban Reality Talk Shows Paint A New Face On Internet Television

With provocative coverage of celebrity scandals and relationship issues served in quick bite-sized pieces, Pax Stereo Tv is out to change the face of Internet television. User Generated Content (UGC) is the rage, host Stephanie Raye is Super Hot, and once again innovation flavored with sex sells.

Los Angeles, CA (PRWEB) February 11, 2008 -- Sometimes the old formulas work best. Taking a page out of the cable television early days, Pax Stereo Tv is the one today daring to be different, but using a old formula to do it. Sex. Besides pioneering with over 350 micro-niche internet television channels, Pax Stereo Tv' s repertoire has now been expanded into providing original programming, and the key ingredients to grab todays audiences are reality and sex.

In series such as "Beast & the Booty" and "Virtually Uncut", relationship issues and sex are the main events. Sexy Stephanie Raye is now cohosting regularly with Mario Hemsley, and the result has been a steady increase in viewership. "I am loving all the attention, what woman wouldn't", Stephanie laughs. "With the popularity comes demands, but we all have to juggle responsibilities in real life. I do, I'm sure you do too."

Stephanie points to her family as what keeps her grounded. She has been gathering a steady following since appearing out of relative anonymity. "I am a single mom raising a family, I just decided to try something new, something for myself." The rest is now history. Mario describes her as a natural talent. "Stephanie Raye walked in here and while playing around charmed us all. She is a natural."

What's Next host Victor Allen tells you more on the How To Use Us page. "Our goal is to first make ourselves valuable both to our users and the artists, commerce is a distant second."
