

Offering Southern California Bail Bonds, Orange County Bail Bonds Proudly Announces Their 45th Anniversary

By offering several types of bail bonds, Orange County Bail Bonds is able to serve Southern California families during their trying times. As a local California bail bond agency, Orange County Bail Bonds proudly announces their 45th year of business.

CA (PRWEB) February 26, 2008 -- With the growing popularity of bail bonds, large, national corporations are now moving into the industry. During this time, Orange County Bail Bonds is proud to announce their company's 45th anniversary of offering Southern California bail bonds.

Established in 1963, Orange County Bail Bonds is a family owned and operated company. Offering intimate, discreet, and personal service, this small company has been serving Southern California families in times of crisis for 45 years. With their main office located in the Civic Center Law Building in Santa Ana, Orange County Bail Bonds is located directly across the street from the Orange County Main Jail and the Santa Ana City Jail. Orange County Bail Bonds serves dozens of cities including Anaheim, Fullerton, Irvine, Laguna Beach, Mission Viejo, Newport Beach, Costa Mesa, and Huntington Beach.

Owner of Orange County Bail Bonds, Bob Miller, explains, "Our family is proud to be part of the solution for one of America's most pressing fiscal crises; overcrowded jails. As a bail bond agency, we are an integral part of the justice system. Bail is guaranteed by the 8th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and ensures the court that a criminal defendant will appear for trial. If the defendant does not appear, the bondsman must apprehend the defendant and return him to court or pay the full bond amount."

Co-owner, Ann Miller of Orange County Bail Bonds, continues explaining, "Without the option of bail, courts and police departments would be tied down with issuing and executing fugitive warrants. Those in the bail industry execute and apprehend fugitives at their own expense; whereas courts and police departments use taxpayers' money."

Orange County Bail Bonds offer quick service at very low rates. Bonds cost as low as 8 percent and collateral is also not always required. Additionally, an agent is always in the office and available 24 hours a day. Orange County Bail Bonds' services include numerous types of bail bonds including assault, burglary, felony, immigration, and misdemeanor.

At Orange County Bail Bonds, all of their agents are licensed by the Department of Insurance. In addition, they are in good standing as members of the Professional Bail Agents of the United States, California Bail Agents Association, and Better Business Bureau.
