After owning boutiques of their own and realizing the advertising needs of the work at home mom, sisters Becky Ocasio and Kimberly Morales, opened Style Cafe Moms in June of 2007, an online "resource cafe for the trendy mom". Offering an array of services for a businesses advertising and promotional needs, however they still looked for more unique opportunities to promote the businesses that they represent, and with that the Style Café Moms Celebrity Basket was born - a venue allowing several businesses to receive extraordinary distribution and publicity.

Style Cafe Moms strives to be the top online support system for business owners and those who have developed their own product and need affordable advertising and exposure. In addition to advertising, Style Café Moms offers boutique and product reviews as well as a shopping guide, recipes, celebrity dish, and of course the newly launched celebrity baskets.

Style Cafe Moms has delved into the celebrity realm by offering businesses the opportunity to introduce their product(s) to some of the biggest celebrities. Style Cafe Mom's celebrity baskets are the ideal venue to launch your new product or create awareness of an existing product.

The most recent recipient for a SCM's Celebrity Basket was Giada De Laurentiis. The Giada De Laurentiis basket was a huge success for Style Café Moms as well as the numerous participants. Participating businesses included:
