(PRWEB) March 04, 2013 -- SantaCruzImplantDentistry.com, a premier provider of quality dental care in Santa Cruz, California, takes a more active approach to restoring teeth for healthier and more attractive smiles. The local practice is proud to offer Teeth-in-an-Hour as an advanced solution for cosmetic and restorative procedures. The clinic's resident dentist, Dr. Robert Matiasevich Jr., offers this new treatment for patients who suffer from ill-fitting restorations. He also believes this is a convenient and cost-effective alternative to complex dental procedures, which make it an important breakthrough for his practice.

Permanent Solutions for Missing Teeth and Ill-Fitting Restorations

Santa Cruz's premier dental practice understands how some people had a hard time scheduling an appointment with their dentist, which is why they decided to offer Teeth-in-an-Hour, a treatment promising to give patients complete dental implants or teeth replacements in about an hour. With this new treatment, patients don’t need to wait months to restore their smiles. This also allows them to avoid invasive surgeries for their convenience.

The treatment is for patients who need immediate attention for their teeth replacements. The entire treatment may involve different processes, but does not require the same duration as those in traditional teeth replacements. Using state-of-the-art equipment and advanced techniques, Dr. Matiasevich is able to produce quick results without compromising quality.

The local practice uses CT scans and 3D imaging software to fabricate high-grade restorations. With these new technologies, dental implant placement is guaranteed accurate and safe. These also allow patients to see results even before the surgery takes place.

As part of their treatment, the clinic also offers all-on-four implants. These implants allow patients who don’t have sufficient jawbone levels fix their restorations. With these new services, patients can have non-removable bridges and dentures without undergoing bone grafting.

Convenient and Comfortable Treatments

Dr. Matiasevich puts great value in comfort and convenience. In line with the new treatment, the local practice has taken several measures to help patients overcome dental phobias or anxieties. Soothing music plays in the background as patients wait for their turn. They can also watch movies during the procedure so they can remain comfortable. Blankets and pillows are also available upon request. They also provide sedation dentistry to keep patients relaxed throughout their treatments. Some sedatives available include anti-anxiety medications, sleep-inducing drugs, strong pain killers.

The clinic also offers OraVerse, an anesthetic agent that reverses the numbing feeling associated with dental work that many patients hate.
Strong Resolve for Beautiful and Healthy Teeth

Dr. Matiasevich and his staff put their patients' needs above everything else. Specializing in implant dentistry, the local practice makes extra effort to provide the latest treatment options for those who want permanent solutions for their missing teeth and ill-fitting restorations. The staff also devotes time and attention to make sure patients are well-informed about their conditions.

Dr. Matiasevich also takes time discussing possible treatment options to help patients figure out the best solution for their dental problem without resulting to complex procedures. Each step involves utmost precision to guarantee patients can get healthier and more beautiful smiles.
