Recovery from Chronic Prostatitis with New Herbal Product Takes Three Months, States Wuhan Dr. Li's Clinic

Researchers are ceaselessly looking for a successful treatment option for chronic prostatitis as many people are becoming dependent on or addicted to antibiotics, pain medications and more invasive methods, like prostate injections, which have been found of no use and possibly harmful. On the contrary, Dr. Li Xiaoping’s herbal medicine "Diuretic and Anti-inflammatory Pill" provides effective relief and cure without side effects, reveals Wuhan Dr. Li’s Clinic.

(PRWEB) March 23, 2013 -- "Conventional medicine concentrates on the symptoms and treats them aggressively, which weakens the body," says a new book, 'Healthy Prostate'. Most prostate treatment options, such as long-term antibiotics for chronic prostatitis, BPH medications and surgeries have been aware of the aggressive nature. In contrast, taking herbal medicine Diuretic and Anti-inflammatory Pill for chronic prostatitis results in a full recovery from a prostate problem, which can be expected in cases of both bacterial chronic prostatitis and nonbacterial chronic prostatitis.

Contrary to typical conventional treatment options, Diuretic and anti inflammatory pill helps to recover from inflammation and to reduce swelling without any side effects. The medication works all the time creating an ideal environment for blood to pass through capillaries in the affected prostate tissue. The herbs improve blood circulation, cleanse the prostate and over time allows the body to repair itself through its own restorative mechanisms.

Patients with chronic prostatitis can experience pelvic pain relief when starting to take the herbal medicine within a month. We are pleased to receive a new message from one of our patients from Maryland, USA, who has been suffering from prostatitis for 5 years, and taking herbal pills for 2 months:"I'm currently in to the second of medication already and I see better improvements. I feel that the sting sensation is almost gone because I don't feel the stinging sensation for days. The swelling also feels smaller. The urethra is getting less red too. I would like to order my third month of medication."

"It is common for a man with chronic prostatitis and receiving a treatment with herbal pills to experience the times when the symptoms get better and then alternate with the times when they are felt stronger again. The herbs improve the condition of the prostate gland gradually," says Dr. Li Xiaoping. "Chronic prostate inflammation must be treated gradually to achieve tangible success, and men are advised to be patient while taking herbal product to reach full recovery from chronic prostatitis."
