Englewood Orthopedics Practice Offers Comprehensive Joint Replacement

Colorado Orthopedic Consultants offers joint replacement procedures performed by qualified physicians such as Englewood orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Jeffrey Arthur.

Englewood, CO (PRWEB) December 12, 2013 -- Colorado Orthopedic Consultants is offering comprehensive total joint replacement procedures performed by qualified physicians such as Dr. Jeffrey A. Arthur, DO, who recently joined the Englewood orthopedics team. Through their knowledge and expertise in the field of joint replacement, the physicians in the practice will be able to address ailing patients with severe joint problems.

Joints are comprised of the ends of two or more bones connected by tissues called cartilage, which are responsible for cushioning the joints and minimizing friction. However, age, diseases, or injuries can damage or cause wear and tear to the cartilage, resulting in the inflammation of the tissues and pain especially during movement. Colorado Orthopedic Consultants caters to patients who suffer from hip, knee, and shoulder injuries, to name a few, that require minimal, revision, or total replacements.

Being one of the most dedicated orthopedic surgeons in Colorado, Dr. Arthur brings his vast knowledge as an osteopathic physician to help the practice provide viable solutions to their patients. He specializes in repairing the joints or completely replacing them by removing the damaged parts and substituting them with artificial implants through surgery.

Dr. Arthur’s medical background traces its roots to the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, where he obtained his degree and had his training in manipulative medicine. This was then followed by an orthopedic residency at a Level One trauma institution in Toledo, Ohio, where he experienced treating various types of patients. He went on to complete his sub-specialty training in joint arthroplasty at the University of California at Davis.

Established to help individuals who are suffering from different kinds of musculoskeletal ailments and injuries, Colorado Orthopedic Consultants offers comprehensive orthopedic care using some of the latest treatments and procedures. Apart from joint replacement and reconstruction, they also address trauma and bone fractures caused by stress, high impact, and osteoporosis. They also treat athletes who sustain injuries from various sporting activities.
