American Psychiatric Nurses Association Call for Abstracts - Collaborating in an Evolving Health Care System: Opportunities to Advance Psychiatric-Mental Health Nursing

The American Psychiatric Nurses Association (APNA) is now accepting abstracts for presentation at the APNA 29th Annual Conference, October 28-31, 2015 at Disney’s Coronado Springs Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. Submissions will be accepted through March 9, 2015.

Falls Church, VA (PRWEB) January 07, 2015 -- The American Psychiatric Nurses Association (APNA) Annual Conference is a platform for the psychiatric-mental health nursing community to share original research, information on clinical topics and trends, outcomes from innovations in administration education, or practice, and more. One of the largest gatherings of psychiatric-mental health nurses in the US, the conference offers a high caliber continuing education program addressing current and relevant topics in nursing and mental health. APRNs, RNs, and other health care professionals are invited to submit abstracts to be considered for presentation at this year’s Annual Conference, which will be held October 28-31, 2015 at Disney’s Coronado Springs Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. Abstracts must be submitted online by March 9, 2015 at 11:59 Eastern Time.

Suggested topics for abstract submissions include but are not limited to:
- Addictions / Substance Use
