Miami, FL [PRWEB] August 11, 2015 -- Oxy Bump Corporation proudly announced today that three of its groundbreaking oxygen products are now available at retailers nationwide, including at Target stores: Oxy Bump Sinus Congestion Nasal Spray, Oxy Bump Hay Fever/Allergy Nasal Spray, and Oxy Bump Sore Throat Spray.

Trusted and highly-rated by a wide array of fans-- including business travelers, busy moms, and personalities like NFL Super Bowl Champion Jeremy Shockey, Miami City Ballet Principal Jennifer Carlynn Kronenberg, Kettlenetics fitness pioneer Michelle Khai, and NYU School of Medicine's Dr. Bert Petersen, M.D. -- the award-winning, proudly USA-made Oxy Bump line of products are the world’s first and only oxygen infused nasal and throat sprays. These “oxygen superheroes” are designed to help fight allergens and provide fast-acting relief from hay fever, sinus congestion, and nasal and throat irritation.

“We’re thrilled that Oxy Bump is now available in industry leading retailers such as Target stores, and will help millions of people experience rapid relief -- but without the risks, side effects and contraindication concerns associated with OTC and prescription medications,” stated Oxy Bump Corporation’s founders Shamila Hunter and Lissa Charron. “Target especially has a tradition of connecting health conscious consumers with solutions that improve their lives. Oxy Bump aligns perfectly with this vision and we look forward to a very rewarding relationship with the exceptional Target team as well as all of our other retail partners!”

The essential source of Oxy Bump’s globally acclaimed and clinically-tested benefits is oxygen itself, which is good for everyone young or old. Each Oxy Bump product is formulated with a super concentrate of oxygen in a safe and stable saline solution that is readily recognized and absorbed by the body, and delivers a potent boost of oxygen that improves overall health, as well as cleanses, moisturizes and reduces congestion.

A crowd favorite, the original Oxy Bump Sinus Congestion nasal spray is 100% all-natural, non-medicated stuffy-nose-relief that is clean, tasteless, and fast-acting so you can breathe clearly and quickly. Brand new to the category, Oxy Bump Hay Fever/Allergy and Sore Throat are a unique and powerful infusion of oxygen and homeopaths that are unlike anything else on the market and made from the finest sourced natural elements like mineral and plant extracts.

All Oxy Bump products are pH balanced and non-addictive, and can be used as much as needed without risk of overuse and have no adverse side-effects -- which is of growing importance for many of today’s health-conscious consumers, who are increasingly demanding wellness products that are safe, family-friendly, and suitable for everyday use.

To support the nationwide roll-out, Oxy Bump’s founders Shamila Hunter and Lissa Charron have been spreading the word on how Oxy Bump products work, why they’re considered a “must have” by everyone from busy moms to high-performance athletes, rated #1 in travel wellness retail, and why they’re recommended by health professionals.

Added Hunter and Charron: “By far the most common feedback we get after people try Oxy Bump is a wide-eyed: ‘This stuff really works!’ We look forward to hearing that many times as we join forces with our retail partners to create millions of new Oxy Bump fans!”
