ThreatSTOP CEO and Founder to Present at AGC Partners Annual Information Security Conference

Tom Byrnes, ThreatSTOP CEO, to present at AGC Partners information security conference in San Francisco, Feb. 29.

Carlsbad, California (PRWEB) February 19, 2016 -- ThreatSTOP, the company that makes threat intelligence actionable in real time, today announced CEO and Founder Tom Byrnes has been selected to present at the AGC Partners 12th Annual West Coast Information Security and Technology Growth Conference. The information security conference will be held at the Westin St. Francis in San Francisco on February 29.

AGC Partner's event is being held in conjunction with the RSA® Conference 2016 at Moscone Center in San Francisco. It kicks off AGC Partner’s West Coast Technology Conference, one of the largest and most influential technology conferences in the U.S. drawing in over 1,800 technology entrepreneurs, investors and buyers over a two-day event. Last year, the conference featured 250 presentations by CEOs from the hottest public and private technology companies and 15 panel discussions on timely technology and investing trends moderated by industry leaders.

Byrnes is also moderating a panel during RSA: Malware-as-a-Service, Kill the Supply Chain. Panelists include noted security experts Johannes Ullrich, SANS, Lance James, Flashpoint, and Marcus Sachs, NERC. In addition, ThreatSTOP will be exhibiting in booth 4714.

About ThreatSTOP
ThreatSTOP is a network security company offering a cloud-based threat protection service that protects every device on a network from cyberattacks and data theft. It can protect any network, from virtual cloud networks to branch LANs to the largest carrier networks. The service leverages market-leading threat intelligence to deflect inbound and outbound threats, including botnet, phishing and ransomware attacks, and prevents data exfiltration. For more information visit www.threatstop.com.

###
CONTACTS:

Michael Becce, MRB Public Relations, Inc.
mbecce(at)mrb-pr(dot)com | (732) 758-1100 x104

Brigitte Engel, ThreatSTOP
bengel(at)threatstop(dot)com | (760) 542-1550 x4394
Contact Information
Brigitte Engel
ThreatSTOP
http://www.threatstop.com
+1 7604020054

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.