CALNOC Announces Performance Excellence Award Winning Hospitals for 2017: CALNOC Congratulates These Hospitals and Nurses for Their Exemplary Service and Dedication

The 2017 CALNOC Performance Excellence Winners have demonstrated the value and reward that comes with improving patient safety and quality. They have led the way to exhibit strong leadership qualities and cultivate a culture of excellence.

SAN RAMON, Calif. (PRWEB) October 16, 2017 -- CALNOC, the nation’s first nursing quality indicators database, today announced the 2017 Performance Excellence Award Winning Hospitals for excellent performance in the reduction of hospital acquired pressure ulcers, injuries from falls and infections.

The 2017 CALNOC Performance Excellence Winners have demonstrated the value and reward that comes with improving patient safety and quality. They have led the way to exhibit strong leadership qualities and cultivate a culture of excellence. Each year we enjoy recognizing these hard-working hospitals and their dedication to improving patient care.

“We congratulate the 2017 Performance Excellence Winners and greatly appreciate their commitment to improving healthcare. We know the future of Healthcare will change, its inevitable and its necessary, but there are two things that will never change: patient safety/quality care and the profound impact of nursing.”

CONGRATULATIONS to the 2017 CALNOC Performance Excellence Award Winners, We Salute You!
