La Jolla Vein Care Earns Esteemed Vein Center Accreditation by Intersocietal Accreditation Commission

San Diego clinic is the first dedicated vein clinic in the region to earn this rigorously reviewed credential

SAN DIEGO (PRWEB) July 30, 2018 -- Distinguished San Diego vein clinic, La Jolla Vein Care, recently earned an esteemed vein center accreditation by Intersocietal Accreditation Commission (IAC) in the area of Superficial Venous Treatment and Management, becoming the first dedicated vein center in San Diego to achieve this standard of excellence. Accreditation by the IAC means that La Jolla Vein Care has undergone an intensive application and review process, is found to be in compliance with the published standards, and demonstrates a commitment to quality patient care in vein treatment and management.

Founded by Dr. Nisha Bunke in 2010, La Jolla Vein Care has prided itself on being the first to provide the newest technology and most comprehensive services for their clients. Dr. Bunke is a leading expert in the field, completing the first fellowship in venous and lymphatic medicine and co-editing the medical school textbook on veins. Under Dr. Bunke’s leadership, La Jolla Vein Care has become the leader in non-invasive treatments in Southern California.

“As I ensure that we give the best possible care to our patients by building a team of expert staff and using the most advanced treatments and procedures, I knew we also had to distinguish this outstanding service within the medical industry;” said Nisha Bunke, M.D., CEO of La Jolla Vein Clinic. “Earning the IAC accreditation was worth every step along their stringent process, and we are proud to be the only dedicated vein clinic in San Diego to have earned this achievement.”

There are many factors that contribute to accurate vein treatment and management and that create a positive patient outcome, including: The training and experience of the vein specialist performing the procedure, the type of equipment used, and the quality assessment metrics each facility is required to measure. Comprised of a detailed self-evaluation followed by a thorough review by a panel of medical experts, the IAC accreditation process enables both the critical operational and technical components of the applicant facility to be assessed, including representative case studies and their corresponding final reports. IAC accreditation for La Jolla Vein Care is a seal of approval that patients can rely on as an indicator of consistent quality care and a dedication to continuous improvement.

To learn more about La Jolla Vein Care, please visit lajollaveincare.com

About La Jolla Vein Care
La Jolla Vein Care was founded in 2010 by Nisha Bunke, M.D., FACPh, RPhS, who co-edited The Vein Book, a distinguished medical textbook on veins. La Jolla Vein Care’s board-certified physicians and staff are trained specifically in the diagnosis and treatment of vein disorders and offer patients a variety of non-surgical treatment options and on-site vascular ultrasound imaging. La Jolla Vein Care is the only dedicated vein center in San Diego that is accredited by the Intersocietal Accreditation Commission (IAC). IAC accreditation and seal of approval indicates that the facility has been carefully critiqued on all aspects of its operations considered relevant by medical experts in the field of Vascular Testing and as a Vein Center.

About IAC
IAC provides accreditation programs for vascular testing, echocardiography, nuclear/PET, MRI, diagnostic CT, dental CT, carotid stenting, vein treatment and management and cardiac electrophysiology. The IAC programs for accreditation are dedicated to ensuring quality patient care and promoting health care and all support one common mission: Improving health care through accreditation®. IAC accreditation is widely respected within the medical community, as illustrated by the support of the national medical societies related to venous disorders, which include physicians, physician extenders, nurses and ultrasound technologists. To date, the IAC accrediting divisions have granted accreditation to more than 14,000 sites throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.

###
Contact Information
Celia Sepulveda
La Jolla Vein Care
+1 (858) 337-1326

Online Web 2.0 Version
You can read the online version of this press release here.