Conway, Inc. to Host the Inaugural 2019 International FDI Summit in Huzhou, China

The Huzhou Municipal Bureau of Commerce to Promote Investment Projects in China and Globally

ATLANTA (PRWEB) January 28, 2019 -- Conway has partnered with the Huzhou Municipal Bureau of Commerce to host the inaugural International Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) Summit at the iconic Sheraton Huzhou Hot Spring Resort in Huzhou, China, October 28-30, 2019. The Huzhou region, which specializes in advanced manufacturing, IT, life sciences and pharmaceuticals industries, is one of the most prosperous investment locations outside Shanghai, with companies such as IBM, Walmart, and General Electric, and $31.79 billion in total foreign direct investment.

“We’re delighted to offer organizations exclusive exposure to hundreds of Chinese investors looking for opportunities around the world, and global investors looking for opportunities in China,” said Adam Jones-Kelly, President, Conway, Inc. “This historic event has the full support of Huzhou local and regional governments, and it will bring together decision-makers from some of the fastest growing companies in the world.”

This prestigious event will bring together global investors, world political and economic leaders and industry intermediaries to discuss, network and build relationships that lead to sustainable investment. The 2019 program will include discussion panels focused on Pharmaceuticals & Agribusiness, Automation & Robotics, Free Trade Zones & Special Economic Zones, Sustainable Development, and the Automotive Future.

“Huzhou is a thriving member of Shanghai metropolitan area, with tremendous location advantages. Huzhou's overall business environment is presently displaying more and more competitiveness. We sincerely hope that through this event, we can further deepen mutual understanding, broaden consensus, promote cooperation, share development opportunities, and create a better future together.” Chu Lianrong, Director of Huzhou Municipal Bureau of Commerce
