PeopleFluent Ranked as Leader in 2019 Aragon Research Globe™ for Corporate Learning

PeopleFluent has been positioned as a Leader in corporate learning by Aragon Research Globe™ for the fifth year in a row.

RALEIGH, N.C. (PRWEB) August 05, 2019 -- PeopleFluent has been positioned as a Leader in corporate learning by Aragon Research Globe™ for the fifth year in a row. The ranking recognizes PeopleFluent’s strengths in video learning, analytics, social/collaboration capabilities and vertical market expertise.

“PeopleFluent provides a next-generation learning platform that meets the needs of major markets, including healthcare, manufacturing, transportation and financial services,” said Jim Lundy, Founder and CEO of Aragon Research. “The combination of on-demand learning, embedded microlearning, formal instruction and video content delivery make them one of the leading firms to watch in the corporate learning and talent management space.”

In 2018, PeopleFluent merged with NetDimensions, which focuses on delivering and verifying learning within highly-regulated industries. NetDimensions LMS allows organizations to host, track and manage training and eLearning programs in a centralized learning management system (LMS). Aragon Research noted the strength of this merger in PeopleFluent's positioning as a corporate learning Leader.

Aragon Research defines Leaders as organizations that have and effectively execute comprehensive strategies that align with industry direction and market demand.

“We’re honored that Aragon Research has once again recognized our comprehensive talent management solutions, delivered in a contextual experience, that puts learning at the core of talent strategy so organizations can hire, develop and advance a skilled workforce,” said Stephen Bruce, Managing Director at PeopleFluent. “As part of the Learning Technologies Group family of companies, PeopleFluent is uniquely positioned to connect our clients with an unparalleled ecosystem of learning content and technologies, as well as contingent workforce management, and diversity and inclusion solutions.”
