Cosmetic Plastic Surgery experts discuss their specialty on "Behind The Scenes", with Laurence Fishburne

An upcoming program on the series seeks to educate on how cosmetic surgery continues to be popular to increase quality of life.

MIAMI (PRWEB) October 30, 2019 -- Emmy winning and Academy Award nominated actor, Lawrence Fishburne, will host a “Behind the Scenes” episode on cosmetic plastic surgery. The educational program presents information on a variety of topics that impact people around the work. It uses a documentary style format to engage viewers on important issues and events of interest.

Cosmetic plastic surgery experts will discuss their particular specialties so that viewers can develop a better understanding of this industry. Cosmetic surgery is defined as any voluntary program that is performed for the sole purpose of improving someone’s appearance and reducing the appearance of aging. The American Society of Plastic Surgeons reported that in 2018 there were 1.8 million cosmetic surgeries performed.

An additional 15.9 million noninvasive cosmetic procedures were also performed. These include injectables, such as Botox and Dysport, which have grown in popularity increasing 21.5% since 2014. While women still remain the primary gender requesting cosmetic procedures, there is a growing trend of men having cosmetic work done.

The most prevalent procedures are implants and injectables such as Botox and facelifts. Other procedures including liposuction, nose surgery, and eyelid surgery are also popular. Experts will discuss these procedures and the implications of preserving youthfulness and enhancing beauty. Surgical risks and potential complications will also be covered, and how expertise is required in the field to avoid such issues.

As a quality educational series, every “Behind the Scenes” episode strives to educate on a wide variety of topics and issues. To engage viewers, programs share information through a series of inspiring stories for an in-depth look at a topic from experts.
