PRAIRIE DU SAC, Wis. (PRWEB) May 08, 2020 -- For more than twenty years Mueller Sports Medicine has partnered with the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society [PFATS] to help promote athlete health and safety to the National Football League and its players.

“Mueller Sports Medicine has been honored to partner with PFATS for the last 20 years. We are proud to increase our support to become a PFATS Platinum sponsor for the first time and further support the athletic training profession.” John Cayer - President, Mueller Sports Medicine

About the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society
The Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society (PFATS) is a Professional Association representing the athletic trainers of the National Football League. They serve the players of the NFL, the member Clubs, and other members of the community with the purpose to ensure the highest quality of health care is provided to the National Football League. The Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society is dedicated to the welfare of our members and committed to the promotion and advancement of athletic training through education and research. The Society is founded on the professional integrity and the ethical standards of its members and the fellowship that exists amongst them.
