Stepping Stone School Provides Safe, Full-time School Age Virtual Learning Pods This Fall

Stepping Stone School is ready and eager to assist our school age children as they begin the fall semester's virtual learning in a safe and clean environment.

AUSTIN, Texas (PRWEB) August 15, 2020 -- Stepping Stone School is providing safe Virtual Learning Pods for School Age Children. Since March, 2020, Stepping Stone School has continued to successfully provide healthy and safe full-time School Age Programming to assist our families and children who are unable to attend elementary school in person.

Stepping Stone School has retrofitted the school age classrooms to accommodate full-time At Home elementary school (public & private) fall curricula. Stepping Stone School is providing safe, highly sanitized individualized learning environments for our children. Stepping Stone School’s curriculum is designed to enhance each child’s daily learning and to fully support TEA guidelines!

Stepping Stone School is providing a safe and quiet academic area for children to participate in virtual learning, and to complete their homework. An onsite capable and degreed faculty member will guide our children with their Private or ISD curriculum work and technology. The Steping Stone School teachers are willing, ready, loving and supportive and WANT to lead your child.

Parents will need to provide a lap top or tablet, headphones and ensure their child’s computing device is already set up with their child’s individual logins, passwords and virtual learning websites to ensure their children can successfully log on daily. Stepping Stone School has invested heavily in upgrading our WiFi networks at each campus to ensure children have easy access to their virtual learning. Stepping Stone School will also offer TEKS based curriculum to supplement their learning as necessary. Children are also provided with a hot healthy, nutritious lunch and three snacks.

Once schools reopen, we will continue to implement our one-of-a-kind STEAM based After School Care and Curriculum! In addition, Stepping Stone School will provide a daily homework opportunity and a series of exciting activities designed to promote Joy and Mindfulness!

Stepping Stone School is committed to virtual learning and peace of mind for all!
